

THE MOMENT IT HAPPENS

SEE HIM?

1

TAKE HIS PHOTO.

Even far away. Even blurry. A photo beats a memory.

3

NOTE WHERE & WHEN.

Street, direction, time. That's all we need.

Please don't chase him. He's friendly but fast — chasing pushes him farther. Watch, shoot, send.

MORE THAN A CAT

EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ANIMAL

Aven is prescribed presence — the steady heartbeat in one man's house. Bringing him home brings somebody back too.

He is microchipped and flagged lost. Any vet scans free — and the number confirms with me in one call.

PANAMA CITY BEACH → CALLAWAY

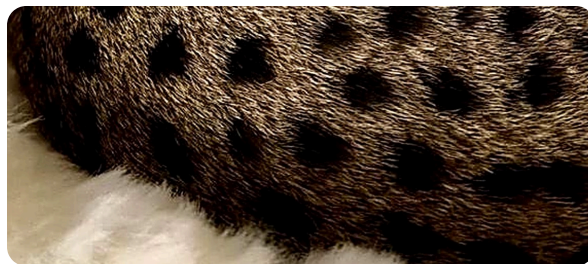

AVEN

Young, tall, and spotted. He slipped out on May 19 in Panama City Beach and turned east. He is microchipped, registered, and missed every single day.

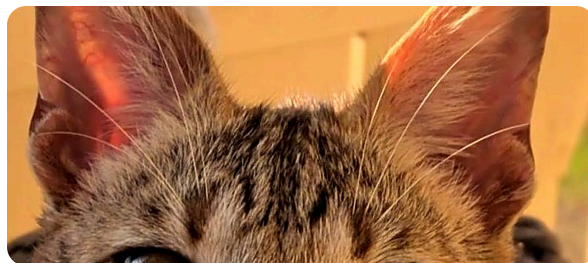

HIS TRAIL: Front Beach Rd → east corridor → Old Callaway (32404), where he's been reported since early July. He moves at dawn and dusk and follows ditch lines and water.

KNOW HIM IN 3 SECONDS

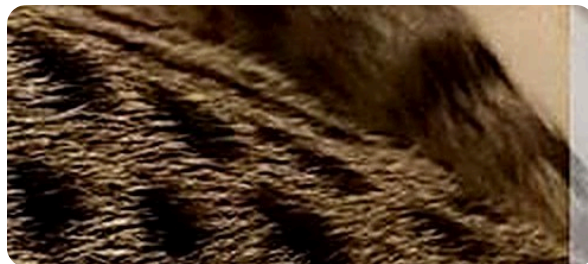

ROUND BLACK SPOTS

Never stripes. Stripes down the body = not him.

VERY TALL EARS

Taller than any house cat you know.

LONG BANDED TAIL

Ringed, with a dark tip.

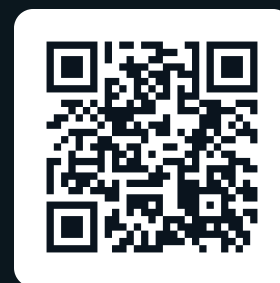

Thin or rough now, harness likely gone
— count the spots, not the shine.

IF YOU SEE HIM
